Preamble

The Learning Outcome based Curriculum Framework(LOCF) is designed to emphasize the teaching-learningprocessatthepostgraduate(M.A)levelinPublicAdministrationtosensitize and train the students to develop a sound and systematic approach regarding theory and processes of natural and human activities. The focus is to help the students to understand the latest tools and techniques, which would help in giving focused and precise understanding of public administration and policy. The purpose is to enhance the capability of the students in perceiving, creating and analyzing sound bases and concepts of the subject.

This LOCF is designed to emphasize the teaching and learning process at the postgraduate M.A from teacher centric to student centric by strengthening the quality of teaching and learning in the present day real life scenario of global, regional and local level. It is considered learning as an activity of creativity and understanding. The main objective of this course is to introduce critical thinking on various theories and concepts of the Public Administration and its related subjects. The aim is to prepare students for the comprehensive understanding as well as practical application of various concepts of the Public administration.

Introduction

The M.A. Public Administration Programme was introduced in Royal Global University in 2018 and is the first and only regular Postgraduate programme of its kind to be located in Assam.
M.A. Public Administration or Master of Arts in Public Administration is a postgraduate Public Administration course. Public Administration is a comprehensive and thorough study of Public Administration as a discipline at an advanced level. M.A. (Public Administration) degree course covers the study of various theories of Administration, Public Organisations, Financial Administration, Public Services and the Constitutional Framework. In other words, M.A. in (Public Administration) degree course is a study involving the study of a system through which the government carries out its business of ruling and controlling effectively. The course duration is two years with four-semester syllabus.

The curriculum for MAPublicAdministrationconsistsofcorecoursesandelectives.Whilecore courses deal with the basic concepts related to Public Administration, electives are more about specialization in a particular field. Students also have to submit a project report at the end of the fourth semester. M.A. (Public Administration) degree course teaches and trains the students in democratic values such as equality, justice, security and order. It also prepares such human resources (called public administrators) who can critically analyse and review public policies of the government. The students are also taught to take the responsibility of determining the policies and programmes of the government.

The discipline of Public Administration studies government-in-action and has acquired salience and popularity among students, particularly those aspiring to make a career in the rapidly changing political economy of India today. The Indian Civil services are an alternative area of career planning for the students of Public Administration besides the ever expanding private sector in post globalized India. The 20 papers of the Programme familiarize the student with the complexities of state and bureaucratic functioning as well as policymaking and implementation with particular reference to India. The student learns about the concepts and theories of management and their application which is extremely relevant to the working of both public and private sector organizations. A Master's Programme in Public Administration additionally equips the student with a knowledge of the Indian constitution, the political system, institutions and their functioning besides giving an idea of how a government works at the central, state and local levels.

Papers in Personnel and Financial administration are also introduced. A working knowledge of Administrative Law and Public Enterprise Management form a part of the programme. The M. A. Programme has been repeatedly updated on account of disciplinary shifts, changing administrative realities and market exigencies. Accordingly many new topics of study have been added to enhance the skill set of the student ensuring newer inputs for academic engagement and research, besides added avenues of employment.

The courses in the Programme have been structured in a manner that they introduce the student to the canvas of subjects that comprise the umbrella discipline of Public Administration which has both theoretical and applied aspects. Beginning with a focus on concepts and theories which form the core courses, other courses are introduced to see how these concepts have been translated in to Indian administrative practice.

Apart from the end semester exams that the University conducts on a biannual basis the internal assessment plan enables the teacher to understand and evaluate a student's thinking, writing and articulation skills. The assessment methods are:

- ☐ Assignment and Class Tests
- ☐ Class Presentations/Discussions
- ☐ Internship
- ☐ Major Project Report and Viva.

There is a Project Report and Viva-Voce (8credits) which tests the student's understanding of research tools for conducting survey research, in any case study that they might wish to present in their Project work.

Given this diverse basket of courses and skill sets that a student is expected to master in this M. A. Programme, the learning out comes enable them to seek gainful employment and engagement in diverse sectors of the economy such as teaching and research, civil services, journalism, law or executive work in private sector organizations.
